

A cartoon illustration of a large white sign with a red border, held up by several stylized human figures. The sign contains the text 'DIALOGUE AND LEADERSHIP FOR A NEW FACE OF COMMUNITY'. The figures are drawn in a simple, sketchy style. Some are holding the sign from the top, some from the sides, and some from the bottom. There are also some thought bubbles and speech bubbles around the figures. The background is a light green color.

What for and why now?

There are significant and urgent challenges facing us and the future of our planet. We are being called upon to use our collective spirit, will, and intelligence to address them. What kind of communities do we need to shape or build now in order to answer these global challenges where we live, learn and work? How might we, through inclusive dialoguing and inspiring leadership, help coordinate and effect individual and collective action?

The 2nd European Salon

Please have a look at the documentation of the first European Salon at www.dialogueandleadership.eu. This 2nd European Salon will continue to experientially explore the importance of being present, communicating and sharing leadership in the context of actively engaging with, building and becoming a community.

We warmly invite our expanding circle of friends – dialogue and change practitioners of diverse professional backgrounds – to share questions, ideas, fears, passion and experience. We will slow down to practice presence, dialogue and shared leadership! We are going to provide just enough structure to hold a space for action learning before, during and after the Salon.

The conference language is English, but national languages, where agreed, can be used in conversations.

Desired Impact

Imagine the possibilities if we:

- Listen deeply, beyond the words, to patterns and insights;
- Uncover the practices that hurt and find those that will heal;
- Find the resonance that awakens the new rhythms of change;
- Gain inspiration and wisdom from one another;
- Discover new ways of shared leadership;
- Shape a new face of community!

Save this date!

We will gather in a private meeting space in Egensbach near Nürnberg, Germany (www.auf-nach-egensbach.de) from October 14 (evening) – 17 (afternoon), 2009.

We recommend a contribution of 225,00 € for venue, simple accommodation, breakfasts and lunches, conference materials and support for the planning meeting.

The contribution can vary depending on personal abilities.

Dinners and external accommodation in Egensbach are not included in this fee.

Space is limited to 20, so register asap to secure your participation.
